PERSONAL BRANDING-DEFINING YOUR "BEST SELF"

A Personal Brand is defined as a "Powerful Pulling Identity" that cuts across the clutter to Stand Out- automatically differentiated and positioned in the chosen market place. It

- ✓ Automatically pulls your stakeholders to you
- ✓ Requires low investment of resources
- ✓ Protects both Professional and Personal goals
- ✓ Aims for big achievements
- ✓ Simplifies decision making
- ✓ Is personal

To create a Powerful Personal Brand, you have to project it to 4 main goal areas- Market related, Financial, Timeline, and Personal. This magnetizes the brain to create, enhance, and speed up the achievements. Before this, you have to define yourself. Defining yourself is knowing yourself. A concrete, clear, and specific definition of you is the foundation stone of your best self. Just like in a building a strong foundation is a must to keep building stable, protected, and long lasting, your concrete definition of yourself will keep you stable and growing towards your vision. This definition of your best self will keep you moving towards your goals, vision, and the ultimate mission.

Once you have created a concrete definition of the best you, you must add the "not allowed" zones and ways of achieving so that your brain gets clarity in how to move forward- accept what and reject what. The 1st "not allowed" zone is dysfunctional quality. There are people who are ok with allowing the dysfunctions as long as it makes them achieve their vision. You can decide whether to be rich and famous in a dysfunctional life or create the condition in your brain that dysfunctional goals, ways of achieving are unacceptable.

After definition is concretized, communication is the means by which you will inform, persuade, and remind your customers (both prospective and present), directly or indirectly, about "YOU As A Brand". How to communicate your personal brand? What strategy will be suitable? What will be your Real-time footprints? Digital Footprints? Which Media will be most suitable? How to manage it?

Once you take these decisions, it will be definition of "Best Self" that you will follow in all your integrated marketing communications. Integrated Communications enables you to integrate, synchronize, and manage your communications footprints to deliver a clear, consistent message to build positive relationships with customers and other stakeholders. "You As A Brand" become instantly recognizable anywhere because your communication is integrated.
